Market Review

Global equities continued to rally in December 2023 and was up for the second consecutive month. December 2023 saw a broad-based rally as the Industrial sector outperformed the benchmark and made new highs. Small cap equities outperformed large cap equities in December 2023. In terms of investment styles, value and small size led while minimum volatility lagged. Across the major geographic regions, Europe equities outperformed while Chinese equities continued to lag.

There was also broad-based strength in the fixed income markets in December 2023. Treasuries rallied as US 10-year yield continued to decline. US investment grade led the rally amongst the fixed income complex in December 2023 and outperformed High Yield.

The broad commodities market was down in December 2023. There was divergence in performance of the growth sensitive commodities such as copper and oil where copper was up while oil was down. Gold appreciated in December 2023. Asia currencies and the developed economy currencies broadly appreciated against the United States dollar ("USD") in December 2023.

Market Outlook

The macro backdrop for 2024 is more positive compared to 2023 as the headwind of monetary policy tightening could transition to the tailwind of loosening financial conditions. At the point of writing, the Federal Funds Target Rate is above the US inflation rate, thus opening the door for rate cuts by the US Federal Reserve ("Fed") if the central bank's focus shifts to protecting economic growth. Oil prices remain in a downtrend despite actions taken by The Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries ("OPEC+") on supply cuts. Muted oil prices could provide impetus for inflation to decline further from current levels, and that could boost risk assets.

Fundamentals support a more positive market outlook compared to 2023. Earnings trajectory has resumed its uptrend. Market internals are also confirming the recent advance with cyclical equities outperforming defensive equities and market breadth improving. Turning to technical, cross asset price action is constructive with equity volatility muted and credit spreads contained. In addition, the start of a Fed cutting cycle is typically bullish for equities, unless the rate cut cycle is followed by a recession. In terms of valuations, equity valuations are not cheap, driven by the "Magnificent 7" AI related stocks which have contributed to the bulk of the equity gains. However, stripping out the "Magnificent 7" stocks, valuations of the other names in the US equity market are not as stretched. Should rapid rate cuts indeed materialize in 2024, there could be catch up from sectors and investment styles which have lagged in 2023 such as small cap and value stocks, and catalyze the next leg of the equity rally.
